DEATH TAKES MAN OF NOTE

Captain Norwood Passes into Great White Silence.

Captain Norwood, a distinguished officer of the Canadian government in the internal revenue department of the Far North some years ago, died Wednesday at his home in Boyes Springs where after his retirement from active service, he made his home.

Norwood was a hardy and picturesque adventurer whose call for the wild lured him in what is said to be the farthest northern latitude of Alaskan waters. He knew the country like a book and had explored it thoroughly. The mines and fishery revenues were collected by him and he was also a whaler of note.

Many who knew him in the Far North declare that he was the original of Jack London's Sea Wolf hero. He knew London and the two were great comrades during the noted author's Klondike days. Capt. Norwood ridiculed the idea of being the chief character in the book and those who knew him intimately, could not reconcile his kindly character to that of the Wolf.

The Captain married a native woman of the country of which he was so much a part and leaves a young daughter 18 years of age to mourn his passing. She has a dear home with him at the Springs.

For some years the rugged traveler has known of the fatal malady which caused his death and he passed into the Great White Silence Wednesday like the true adventurer he was.

Deceased was a native of Nova Scotia in his 54th year but his hardships and experiences had brought to him more of life than ordinary mortals experience in 3 score and ten. He left a comfortable fortune.

LA TOROSA HIGH JINKS

The La Torosa Club which is the social organization of girls at the High School, gave a jolly jinks in the Domestic Science building last Friday night. It was for the fair ones alone and they had the time of their lives, so one fair Junior expressed it. There was music, dancing and feasting while the clever students impersonated the various characters chosen by them. Dorothy Breitenbach was declared prize winner in her striking role of Oriental dancer. The following were present:

Dorothy Breitenbach, Oriental dancer; Doreles Breitenbach, fancy dancer; Dorothy Dobbel, clown; Sylvia Picetti, boy; Edda Johannessen, old maid; Gertrude Johannessen; Gladys Shields, Japanese; Louise Batto, clown; Ethel Evans, bathing girl; Evelyn Goldsmith, bathing girl; Marie Minkel, clown; Providence LaTorres, soldier; Margaret Caminette, soldier; Portia Harrison, soldier; Miss Ames, doll. Mesdames Rowell, LaTorres, Geo. Breitenbach were the patronesses.

HOCKEY STAR

"Bobby" Rowe of the Metropolitan, one of the teams playing Hockey at the Ice Palace in San Francisco, was up last Saturday on a visit to his family at Fetters.

Rowe is a partner of A. P. Ringress in the general merchandise business but has been away much of the time playing with his team in notable contests. He is a very clever player and is a professional much sought after by promoters of the splendid game which is creating a furore since its introduction into San Francisco. Mr. Ringress went down Wednesday for the match between the Metropolitan and the Canadians.

VISITS FAMILY

Robert A. Poppe has accepted an invitation to be present at the Easter service to be held in Vallejo Sunday at the Presbyterian Church in honor of the Vacaville, Naval and Napa Commandries of Knight Templars. The Commandries have jointly accepted the invitation extended by M. J. Hollinger of Vallejo to hear Rev. D. M. Moberly's fine sermon on the Resurrection. The Knights will attend in full regalia and will later be entertained at luncheon by their hosts.

YOUTHFUL WANDERERS RETURNED HOME

Fred and Albert McGuire aged twelve and fourteen years respectively, ran away from their San Francisco home and found themselves in Sonoma last Saturday night. The boys said they could not stand living with their stepmother and so packed their grips and determined to make their own way. On Saturday night they were allowed to snooze in the livery stable through the kindness of Joe Ryan, but later they were remanded to the custody of County Probation Officer Plover who had Jack Murray bring them to Santa Rosa. Mr. Plover ascertained that they lived at 204 Castro Street and that their father was a janitor. The young adventurers were returned home.

BRIDE PASSES TO GREAT BEYOND

Death of Mrs. J. J. Schutz Occurred Here Last Sunday.

"Oh! what a shadow o'er the heart is flung
When peals the requiem of the loved and young."

Ida Elanore Schutz, a bride of a little more than a year, died here last Sunday night after a lingering illness. She was the wife of the popular Wells Fargo agent, John J. Schutz. Deceased was a sufferer from intestinal trouble and for weeks has been in a San Francisco hospital battling bravely for the life which flickered out last week. Her husband was most devoted and spent all the time he could at her bedside, comforting her and cheering her despite the heart rending opinion of her physician, who confided to him that death was only a matter of a very short time. A week before her passing she asked to be brought back to Sonoma and she spent the last few days in the home which the young couple had made so comfortable and in which they had hoped to live so happily. Mrs. Schutz was a most companionable girlish wife and ably assisted her husband in his business before her fatal illness. For twelve years she had symptoms of the malady which caused her death but it was hoped that it would be overcome. Death however had marked her for its own and the spirit from the fair young form departed this life despite everything that medical science and good care could possibly do for her. The remains were taken to San Francisco Monday and cremated at Mt. Olivet.

Deceased was 23 years of age and a native of Tennessee. She was the daughter of Mrs. Jamison of Ukiah and a member of the local lodge of Rebekahs.

Mr. Schutz has the sympathy of the entire community in his bereavement.

WERE WELCOME VISITORS

Co. E. of Santa Rosa sent down an auto load of our boys in khaki last Friday and the young patriots stirred all Americans to enthusiasm as they earnestly told of the realization they had of the national crisis and how anxious they were to uphold the honor and prestige of Uncle Sam. The delegation was headed by Sergeant Pozzi and Wayne Batchelor, Sonoma's soldier boy who was warmly welcomed in his own home town. They were accompanied by Privates Berger and Walker.

The young men were finely entertained at dinner by J. J. Suttenden of the State Home at Eldridge.

While the soldiers did not get any of the town boys to sign up, they awakened much interest and won the promise of several to enlist when war was declared. They were the means also of getting our citizens to hang out the stars and stripes on many places of business and residences. Mrs. Susie Batchelor, mother of Private Wayne Batchelor also made a telling appeal to the Americanism of the community and since the recruiting officers and young soldiers, and enthusiastic civilians have united in getting our colors displayed, Old Glory is floating proudly in the breeze in every part of Sonoma Valley.

Miss Margaret Victors of Oakland is visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. F. Clewe.

An exciting game of baseball will be played on the local diamond today between Sonoma High and Santa Rosa High.

John Wagon and Henry Bates took a trip to Black Point last Sunday to photograph the bridge.

LUTGENS SINGS SWAN SONG

Paper Passes Into Hands of Reformers and Former Proprietor Is to Go to Sebastopol.

The third paper started in Sonoma some year and half ago and which has been an imposition on the public ever since its inception, has closed its doors, the concern passing into the hands of a clique of reformers. It is to be consolidated with the Expositor, financed by J. K. Bigelow, blue skyed by Henry Watters and issued by O. L. Hose.

Mr. Bigelow hopes to inject some "pep" into the Expositor through the assistance of Mr. Watters who has for some years been the efficient bookkeeper of Duhning's store and is prominent in church work. Mr. Hose who has been most faithful to Bigelow is the practical man of the trio.

Harry Lutgens goes to Sebastopol to take charge of the "Times" and will attempt to untangle the badly involved finances of that paper which has had a checkered career ever since its sale by J. P. McDonnell to a group of business men there who of course knew nothing about the newspaper business and soon got into deep water. Mr. McDonnell still owns 49 per cent in the "Times", although he is now an apple producer and has nothing whatever to do with journalism. The controlling stockholders got Mr. Lutgens interested in the proposition and he takes charge for them. It is said the Mogul reformer of Sonoma Valley put up the money for the Expositor-Forum-Times deal hoping thereby to have another mouth piece or two and run politics in Sonoma County.

The Lutgens plant will be moved up to the Expositor office and Mr. and Mrs. Lutgens leave for their future home in Sebastopol Monday.

While Harry gave us a little parting shot in his swan song yesterday, we cherish no animosity against him whatsoever. We have always contended however that he was foolish to think he could get away with the newspaper game in a crowded field like Sonoma with no experience and no avowed policy. You could never tell whether his paper was for or against 'em, For-run or against it. We trust he will be successful in the new field and that prosperity will smile upon him.

COUNTY PHYSICIAN OFFERS HELP

The following letter is of interest to the entire public and shows the willingness of the county physician Dr. J. H. Shaw to bestow his good offices and broaden the scope of the work of the Department of Health of Sonoma County:

Dr. Allen Thomson, Sonoma, Cal.

Dear Doctor:

This note is to remind you that our own County maintains the modern and up to date Sonoma County Hospital. You may scoff at this somewhat extravagant statement, because of our antiquated buildings, but we want you to come out and see for yourself.

If you have under your care, a patient without means, who is in need of a necessary surgical operation, or any hospital attention, communicate with me or the County Supervisor of your district, and we will gladly make necessary provision for admission to the Hospital. It will also be my pleasure to have you cooperate with me in the care of such cases.

Interesting operative clinics are frequently held at the Hospital, to all of which you are most cordially invited.

Fraternally,

J. H. Shaw, Physician, Sonoma County.

Mrs. Anita Breitenbach Leiser has been filling the position of Wells Fargo agent during the absence of J. J. Schutz.

Mrs. T. D. Hall will entertain St. Barbara's Guild on Tuesday next.

The many friends of Frank Burris, president of the Sonoma Valley Bank, are pleased to see him down town again after a ten day's illness.

Miss Doris Dorman has been delightfully entertained at Palo Alto the guest of Miss Trueblood. She enjoyed her visit to Stanford and the campus. While in San Francisco she visited Miss Elizabeth Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Burneister left in their automobile Wednesday for Colfax to visit Mrs. Burneister's brother who is critically ill.

The Marin County Chambers of Commerce wrote that they favored a joint day on Saturday, June 16th when they would join with Napa County in assisting Sonoma County to dedicate the bridge at Black Point and then join in the celebration in this valley. Following is the letter received last week:

San Rafael, Cal. March 29, 1917.

Mr. Z. T. Spencer, President, Development Board, Sonoma City, Calif.

Dear Sir:

Replying to your letter of March 23rd this Chamber of Commerce desires to thank you for your kind invitation which will no doubt be accepted as soon as additional details are arranged.

This chamber has taken the matter up with various civic bodies of Marin County and has found that a well pronounced feeling exists here that both Napa and Marin Counties should be entertained on one day thus making the celebration as big as possible. May we suggest therefore if it is agreeable to Napa County and to yourselves that one day be reserved for both Napa and Marin Counties preferably Saturday.

May we also suggest that a ceremony should be held at the Black Point bridge following which we would continue on and your party would turn back to Sonoma for the remainder of the festivities.

Without giving the matter any serious thought I should suggest that the bascule bridge should be lifted prior to the ceremony. After the crowds had gathered on their respective ends of the bridge the center span would be lowered into place by a committee chosen for that purpose preferably the chairman of the Boards of Supervisors of the three counties after which the dignitaries would meet in the center and carry out a symbolic program.

This chamber does not wish to be understood as trying to dictate how your celebration should be conducted. These thoughts are but suggestions and we trust that you will treat them as such. We would like to impress upon you however that we will be able to bring a much larger crowd if our suggestions should be followed out.

Yours very truly,

Central Marin Chamber of Commerce.

By as. E. Edmiston, Secretary.

The Chairman of the Publicity Committee reported favorable encouragement from the State Automobile Association, the Southern Pacific and Northwestern railroads and other sources. Mr. Watkins and Ben Blow of the Auto Association are very enthusiastic over Sonoma's plans.

President Palmer of the N. W. P. promises extra auto boats if necessary to accommodate the crowds and Mr. Chas. Fee's office assured assistance in advertising the big days in the Valley of the Moon.

DR. THOMSON HEADS MEDICAL PREPAREDNESS WORK.

Dr. A. M. Thomson has been appointed head of the auxiliary Medical Defense Committee of Sonoma County and is empowered to appoint five or more strong men who are known to be thoroughly loyal and ready to work for the common good in National Defense.

Dr. Thomson who belongs to the Medical Reserve Corps of the U. S. A., will announce his appointments shortly. The men selected for field duty must enter the Army medical service under the age of 45 years.

On the Present Crisis

A FEELING of intense pride and reverence for the stars and stripes takes possession of every one living under its folds when we call up the words of President Wilson's war message which has translated the meaning of that flag as it has never been set forth before. It has ever embodied every sentiment expressed by our president, but the trend of circumstances and present exigency has brought to fullest maturity the significance of our flag and its symbolism.

The flag symbolizes the lofty principle of the government of the United States and its guarantee of liberty. It is to be the protecting mantle of the rights of all people against whom an autocratic government seeks to wage a war of oppression and injustice.

The imperial government of Germany has violated every principle of humanity and has placed civilization itself in the balance. President Wilson's masterly arraignment of these conditions wherein he makes plain that he would wage no war on the German people but on the autocratic head of that nation which has dared to sweep the world with its all consuming power and militarism, is indeed the voice of the American people for it embodies the sentiment this country feels and the people of our great nation are with President Wilson and Congress heart and soul in the battle for so righteous and lofty a purpose as the extinction of Prussian vandalism and the curtailment of intolerable autocracy which is jeopardizing the entire world.

The seas must be kept open, lives and commerce must be protected and no power must ever usurp the rights of other nations as Germany has set out to do.

We are mustering the forces of this vast country and dedicating our lives and fortunes to this great purpose, praying that peace may be brought out of the horrible chaos of the past two years and that our Goddess of Liberty will point out the way to a lasting era of peace and inviolable rights of all men. Let us consecrate the best that is in us to this noble end and when it is done more glorious still will be old Glory.

The Agony of Slater as Depicted By Hitchborn

If the way of the sinner is hard, the way of the saint is harder. Behold Senator Herbert Slater, pink of cheek and stranger to the yellow streak suddenly depicted as dry as dust, blanched and ashen and agonized—a pitiful depiction of despair for so he was delineated by Franklin Hitchborn's "Legislative Bulletin." To think the debonair Senator from Sonoma County courting the dries and counting on their encomiums should come to this! He tried so hard to please but they continued to crack the whip for fear lest with the dying out of the reverberation of the lash, Slater would slip back into the natural wet channel whence he came and wherein so many of his constituents disported themselves serene and confident in Slater's vigilance of their interests.

This is the only construction that can be put on the dry sheets "panning" of our Herbert and it worked, for Slater "stayed put" and voted dry for a second time on reconsideration of the Rominger bill and what of the constituents and their confidence? Well that is a chapter not yet out into by Senator Slater but when he comes home he is likely to find himself in different company than of yore, and while twirling his thumbs at some Y. M. C. A. meeting he can at least enjoy the memory of those other days when he was entertained so lavishly with Chianti and ravioli as he presided at some joyous christening or orated to our new citizens on the glory of freedom and personal liberty under the stars and stripes. Whether he will feel comfortable in his new role is a question but he certainly will feel high and dry and will we trust have regained that equilibrium he was fighting so hard to maintain at the State Capitol. Of Mr. Slater's attitude the dry sheet of Franklin Hitchborn said:

"Twenty Senators voted for the Rominger bill; nineteen voted against it; the votes of twenty-one were necessary for its passage in the Senate. Had the fortieth Senator who had been elected to sit in this Senate (Benedict of Los Angeles) been present, he would have voted for the bill; the necessary twenty-one votes would have been cast for it and the measure passed. The people of California did their part toward passing it—they elected a Senate a majority of whom could not be influenced by the saloon vote, or threat, nor misled by saloon bluster and bluff. But Benedict was elected to Congress. His seat in the Senate has not been filled. California needed the vote from that seat when the Rominger bill was up for passage last Wednesday. Because it was vacant, saloon and whiskey won.

Rominger has given notice of reconsideration of the vote by which the bill was defeated. Twenty-one votes must be secured for the bill if anything is to come of this last move in the game of legislation. Even though the twenty-first vote be secured, which is doubtful—although it may be before this issue of The Bulletin reaches its readers—the initial defeat makes for the measure's defeat in the Assembly. It is generally conceded that the Assembly this session is less representative of the State than is the Senate. The small fry of the Assembly from San Francisco and other communities careless of their responsibility and obligation in naming legislators, would have been impressed (scared) by a large vote for the Rominger bill in the Senate. The defeat of the bill has had the contrary effect. The whiskey lobby has earned its money.

From the introduction of the Rominger bill the writer has pointed out that it could not pass the Legislature without the support of the wine interests. This support had to be expressed in votes. Resolutions in such cases are merely words without deeds.

There are four members of the Senate who come from important wine districts. They are Struckenbruck of San Joaquin, Slater of Sonoma, Sharkey of Contra Costa and Rush of Napa.

Sharkey in particular is closely affiliated in business as well as socially with wine men who have been working for the passage of the Rominger bill. Both Sharkey and Slater are on the Public Morals Committee that passed upon the measure. Sharkey, as a member of the committee voted for the bill, recommending that it be enacted into law. Slater asked to be excused from voting. Naturally the bill's supporters counted on Sharkey's vote for the bill when it came up in the Senate for passage.

They also counted on Struckenbruck's vote. Rush, it was conceded, would vote against it.

When it came to a test, however, Slater voted for the bill. This did not surprise those who have followed Slater's course in the Legislature. Whenever a measure affecting the liquor traffic comes up, Slater is seized with an agony of spirit that is pitiable. He wobbles between inclination and the what-not of politics as Slater understands it. But inclination usually prevails, and in a state of exhaustion Slater finally falls on the right side of the line. His unsteady steps landed him there in the fight for Local Option six years ago; they landed him there in the controversy over the Rominger bill. But the introduction of anti-liquor bills in a Legislature of which Slater is a member may aptly be described as cruel and unusual punishment for Slater.

Sharkey and Struckenbruck also suffered agony of spirit in this out-and-out issue of saloon and whiskey. They wobbled also. Struckenbruck, never judged outside San Joaquin County by his own estimate, presented even greater agony of spirit than did the tell-tale face of Slater. Unlike Slater's, Struckenbruck's wobbling landed him on the whiskey-saloon side of the line.

DEATH OF MRS. GARRISON

Claud Johnson received the sad intelligence Monday of the death of his sister, Mrs. Lily Garrison at Long Beach. The deceased had been a great sufferer and death came as a surprise to her trouble. Her mother, Mrs. M. A. Johnson, died suddenly a few months ago and at that time the passing of Mrs. Garrison was hourly expected.

She was the eldest sister of Claud Johnson and will be remembered here as the handsomest of the Johnson girls. Several brothers are left to mourn her passing.

The attractive bungalow on the corner of Broadway and 10th street, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Blumaxe, narrowly escaped complete destruction by fire one evening last week. A small oil stove used for cooking exploded and the flames quickly communicated to the woodwork and draperies. By a miracle the occupants assisted by two men on the ranch beat out the fire and confined it to the interior. The walls, ceiling and furnishings were badly damaged. Mr. Blumaxe was slightly burned while battling the flames. A valuable piano was scorched.

VINEBURG

Jim Small says he is going fishing next Wednesday evening but some think that Jim is too slow to catch a "bite."

A number of friends called on L. Martin Sunday and were pleased to see him looking so well.

We hear that Vineburg is going to have a dog show, but we don't know what kind of a show a dog would have in Vineburg.

Sunday was a lively day in the burg and a great many people from the bay cities were the guests of friends in this vicinity.

A pleasant social event occurred on the Hyde ranch last Saturday evening, it being the fifth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bill Jr. The parlor and dining rooms were tastefully decorated and everyone had a fine time. Among those present were Mesdames O. Rehaag, Weinberger, H. Roeder, T. Allen and Bill; Messrs. L. Weinberger, H. Roeder, Frank Allen, O. Rehaag, Ed. Roeder, John Gross and Philip Bill Jr. The supper table "was a dream" and the party was one which will long be remembered.

Mrs. August Figue and children of the metropolis are guests at the John Batto home.

Miss Rose Basaglia, the popular assistant bookkeeper of John Batto & Sons, spent the week end with relatives and friends in Antioch and San Francisco.

A double birthday party was celebrated Sunday last at the residence of Fred. Batto, it being the anniversary of Fred. Sr. and his son, Fred. Jr., better known to his young friends as "Buddy." City Trustee McDevitt of Sonoma and family, also Joe and Emil Andrieux were among the many guests that were entertained during the day.

Dan, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Kennel has been quite sick with an attack of appendicitis.

Rev. and Mrs. McFarlane will be here from Healdsburg for Easter.

Mr. and Mrs. Burmeister and Ethel Gerick motored to Colfax Wednesday.

Mrs. Leehman and daughters have rented the Pistolesi home for the summer.

Emmet Mullen was a visitor in the Bay City Sunday.

Miss Lula Madison returned to Berkeley Wednesday after a pleasant visit at the Minkal home.

Shirley Weise, son of our supervisor, was in town recently.

Mrs. Saunders went to Santa Rosa the fore part of the week.

George Carpenter took the S. P. train enroute to Suisun Sunday.

Little Miss Doris Baines is recovering from a severe attack of the measles. There are still several cases in El Verano.

Jack Larsen, a brother of Mrs. T. H. Baines, left San Francisco this week for Spokane after having spent the winter in Los Angeles.

The exciting game between the Pool sharks of El Verano and the Business men's team from the lively S. P. center, was watched with keen interest and developed much rivalry. The Pool Sharks won by a score of 6-7. There were eleven innings and though the Business Men were "there a million" Farrell and B. Weaver's aggregation triumphed.

O. Benjamin and C. Weaver of the Business Men promise a lively return match in the near future. A. Chelini is manager of the team. Tom Farrell brought in the winning run with a bagger. L. P. Kearney only figured 2 errors out of 2 chances and Lew says if you can beat that you have got to show him. It was some game so fans declare.

Mr. and Mrs. L. McKenna and children spent the past week at the N. Dowdall home.

Miss Ethel Gerick was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Erhard Steiger Sunday at Schellville.

Fewer Eggs are required with ROYAL BAKING POWDER

In many recipes the number of eggs may be reduced with excellent results by using an additional quantity of Royal Baking Powder, about a teaspoon, for each egg omitted. The following recipe is a practical example:

Chocolate Sponge Roll

1 1/4 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
2 squares melted chocolate

2 tablespoons melted shortening
3/4 cup hot water
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder

The old method called for 4 eggs and no baking powder

DIRECTIONS—Sift flour, baking powder and salt together three times. Beat whole eggs. Add slowly sugar, then boiling water slowly; add next vanilla, melted chocolate and melted shortening, without beating. Sift in dry ingredients, and fold in as lightly as possible. Pour into large baking pan lined with oiled paper, and bake in slow oven twenty minutes. When done, turn out on a damp, hot cloth, spread with white icing and roll.
